A book is not something you find in every gali or mohalla these days. Books which were once staple diet for youngsters in their formative years are fading out of their list of engagements. Ask any youngster which is the latest book he has read and he will be baffled.

Television has been blamed for this calamitous situation, which is producing square faced people and a bookless society. Furthermore, today children are under pressure to be smart and popular to succeed on a social level. Computers, videogames, internet, cricketing and every youngsters passion for hour long tete-a-tete on telephone with friends eat up their leisure time.

Many parents also believe that today children have become aware and demand logical explanation and are not befooled by fairy tales or animal stories.

Though works of Shakespeare, Charles Dickens, Jane Austin no longer get with the teenagers, the best sellers from Daniel Steel, Sidney Sheldon are more famous among them.

Taste and enthusiasm for literature can be communicated artfully to the children by reading to them bed time stories, encouraging them to play historical character and giving books as birthday gifts.

2 Read the following passage carefully and answer the questions given below it :

In the modern world women have come to perform varied roles. They are no longer confined to the four walls of their homes. A number of them go out to workplaces to serve as teachers, doctors, nurses, officers, clerks, workers, soldiers etc. There is hardly any field in which women have nothing to do. They work and earn extra money which provides financial security to their families. Not only do they work efficiently at workplaces they manage their homes equally well.

There is no doubt that working women are sometimes left with little time for their husbands and children. Children fail to do well in their studies. Husbands grumble for lack of attention. In such cases women need to cut down their working hours or find out ways and means so that their families do not feel neglected.

Women, I feel, should work and earn money. Only then can they run their homes better in a competitive world. If their families are co-operative, they also do their duties well, as homemakers.

Questions :

(i) (a) On the basis of your reading of the above passage make notes on it, using abbreviations, where necessary. 4

(b) Give a suitable title to it. 1

(ii) Prepare a summary of the above passage. 3
